

Everything I Know about Sex, in Case You Wanted to Ask.

(by R.S.Forsyth)

I'm going to tell you everything I know about sex, just as I told my best friend. It won't take very long.

Sex consists of three phases. Phase 1 is foreplay. Phase 2 is the thing that makes babies. Then there's Phase 3. That's called the afterglow.

Phase 1 is actually quite fun. You do lots of kissing & cuddling & caressing & stuff like that.

If that goes okay, you then go on to Phase 2, the thing that makes babies. This is when a man's gotta do what a man's gotta do, and a woman wakes the neighbours. If all goes well, that is.

The funny thing is that just when you feel you're getting incredibly close, your partner flies away to an uncharted corner of a distant galaxy, to Planet Orgasm as it's called. If you're lucky, as I said.

If you're not lucky, there's an embarrassing pause. But let's suppose you are lucky. Then you can go on to Phase 3, the afterglow. You can snuggle up and cuddle again and feel all sleepy & satisfied. Though some people go for a shower at this point, so I'm told.

There you are. I have told you everything I know about sex, just as I told my best friend.

"But it isn't like that for me," she said.
